

Dr. Alexandra Sofia Togia

Dr. Alexandra-Sofia Togia is an Economist with a PhD in Socio-Economics of Development and postdoctoral research in the evaluation of European policies on Urban Solid Waste Management.

Since October 2023, she has been serving as the CEO of the Hellenic Recycling Organization (E.O.AN). She is also a board member of O.FY.PE.KA. and has previously served as Director at the International Development Cooperation Service (YDAS 4) of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

She has extensive professional and research experience in Greece and France, having worked as a Special Scientific Associate and Consultant for companies and public and private sector organizations. Her expertise includes circular economy, alternative solid waste management, climate change, and the design and management of co-financed development programs.